On 12th of August, the world celebrates the International Youth Day. This day, designated by the United Nations, is a day of awareness and its goal is to bring attention to a specific set of cultural and legal issues that affect young people. The first International Youth Day was celebrated on August 12, 2000 and since then young people can express themselves and be heard from the World on this special day. This is an opportunity for young people to draw attention to youth issues around the world and is taken seriously by the IF international Youth Group SBH who want to address several issues related to the current situation! And this year our theme is NEXT.
Independent living is the rights of persons with disabilities, which was set out in Article 19 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UNCRPD). For this, mental health is especially important for youth as they are facing transition from adolescence to adulthood.

This year 2024, The IF International Youth Group SBH would like to take this opportunity to raise awareness about the importance of several mental health related topics, including the role of friendships, sports and exercises, body confidence and self-esteem, and physical health.
How the IF International Youth Group will celebrate this day?

The IF International Youth Group SBH will either share a story concerning topics of the mental health regarding experience living with SBH and/or record a video telling what mental health means to them, their current situation, their thoughts, their issues and lessons learned with independent living. By doing this, the IF International Youth Group hopes to raise the awareness of not only youth but everyone with SBH about mental health.

STORY OF MY LIFE

REBECCA AUSTIN, AUSTRALIA

It also really sucks when medications don’t seem to help a lot; when they don’t make a big difference, take the hurt away or make things seem easy enough to get through each day. Treatment-resistant depression sucks so much. It feels like it swallows all my energy, leaves me sleeping so much and still feeling tired, stressed about so much of the stuff alone and hopeless.

I have tried a lot of different treatments without much success. I do keep trying and some may seem or be unconventional or unusual, but it is a battle that I am still fighting and I have to try what I can to get any bit of relief.

Anyway, my point of my sharing this is to spread awareness and inform people. Things are not always as it seems. And we are always learning; so medical treatments are changing with new research - keeping an open mind whilst trialing things has been important and helpful to me.

I am grateful to the people who have been supportive during this long and painful time xx
